FORSYTH, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Four investigations were launched today into the wreck of the New York Central "Twentieth Century Limited" near here yesterday, when nine persons were killed and a number of passengers injured, five seriously. The inquiries were instituted by the authorities of Chautauqua county, New York representatives of the New York Public Service Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Railroad Company.

Physicians attending the five persons who were seriously hurt and who were taken to a hospital at Erie, Pennsylvania said that there was no change in their condition. The bodies of the victims also were taken to Erie.

FORSYTH, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Speeding on ice, cars signals to a stop to gain 15 minutes lost time, the last section of New York Central's crack "Twentieth Century Limited," crashed through a sleeping car at the end of the preceding sections, snuffing out nine lives and inflicting sores of others near here early Sunday morning.

Among the dead was William B. (Wild Bill) Donovan, veteran baseball player, now manager of the New Haven Baseball Club, who with a number of other baseball notables, including President John A. Heydler, of the National League were enroute to Chicago to attend the baseball conferences opening there today.

The dead:
Ralph Parnell, New York City, Pullman porter.

William B. (Wild Bill) Donovan, manager of the New Haven Baseball Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Sullivan, Springfield, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sweet, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stureman, Springfield, Illinois.

Mrs. Carl D. Kinsey, Chicago.

The known seriously injured:
George E. Van Hagen, Sr., Chicago, severe injuries.

George E. Van Hagen, Jr., severe injuries.

John Zant, New York, broken arm.

DREAM LEADS TO DISCOVERY OF TWO BODIES

(By The Associated Press)
SPRING LAKE, Mich., Dec. 10.—The dream, twice repeated, of George Snyder, local contractor, led late yesterday to the discovery of the bodies of Harry E. Proctor, 32, a Muskegon real estate dealer, and 14-year-old Elsie Fuller buried in the mud of Grand River, two blocks from the Grand River home. The man and girl had been missing since October 30.

Impressed by his dream, Snyder communicated with officials and made a sketch of the place where the automobile, in which the two were seen might be found. Thirty minutes after officers began to drag the river the car was found and the bodies of the man and girl for whom a nation wide search had been made, were recovered shortly afterward.

Proctor, according to reports of officials, called at the Fuller home the night of October 30. He had sold his home to Mrs. Fuller. He said he had been drinking and as often drive his car and the Fuller girl finally consented to drive him home. That was the last seen of them. Later a warrant charging abduction was obtained by Mrs. Fuller against Proctor.

COOLIDGE IS CANDIDATE

CLOSE FRIEND ANNOUNCES HE SEEKS RETURN

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Coolidge, not only has definitely entered the race for the Republican presidential nomination next year, but some of his friends are preparing to put his name before the primary ballot in California, the home State of Senator Hiram Johnson.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Coolidge is definitely a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1924.

Announcement of Mr. Coolidge's candidacy was made last night while leaders were gathering in the capital for the annual meeting of the Republican national committee and three days after he had outlined his policies in his first message to Congress. Assurances of support immediately began to pour in upon Wm. M. Butler, Republican National Committee member from Massachusetts, who was named as his personal representative in the campaign.

The announcement was made by Frank W. Stearns of Boston, known as the president's closest personal and political friend; through a statement issued by James B. Reynolds, former secretary of the Republican National Committee, who directed Mr. Coolidge's campaign in 1920.

Whether Mr. Butler will act as national campaign manager was not indicated. It was made known, however, that he will establish temporary headquarters in Washington, where he will be in a position to confer frequently with C. Bascom Stimpfle, the president's secretary. Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Stearns and other party leaders and advisors while perfecting an organization. First consideration it is thought, will be given to the selection of regional managers and Mr. Stimpfle, who is the national committeeman for Virginia, is expected to have charge of the campaign in the South.

The president, it is understood, hopes to remain as much as possible in the background during the campaign, his friends explaining that he desires to conserve his time and energy for the duties of his office. No personal declaration to supplement the announcement by Mr. Stearns is anticipated for the present at least.

Mr. Coolidge's announcement was not unexpected in view of his message of Congress the imminence of the national committee meeting with the selection of Cleveland as the 1924 convention city virtually assured and the unanimous endorsement recently given him by the South Dakota Republican proposal convention. It is expected to have an immediate effect on the plans of Senator Watson of Indiana, Governor Pinchot and other prominent Republicans reported to be considering entrance into the race for the nomination.

Political observers expect the president to enter the national primaries in nearly all of the states in which they are held. In such contests, they point out, he is likely to cross swords with Senator Johnson, the only other assured candidate, who has declared his intention to seek endorsement in these primaries wherever possible.

The Republican National Committee, which will fix the date of the 1924 convention as well as select the meeting place, is not scheduled to name the city until Wednesday. In view of the withdrawal of its invitation by Chicago, however, action may be taken tomorrow after Del. Molnes, San Francisco and Los Angeles have been given an opportunity to present their claims.

Almost all of the party chiefs here regard acceptance of Cleveland's invitation as certain. Fred W. Updike, treasurer of the committee, having asserted in an announcement withdrawal of Chicago from the contest that "responsible administration leaders" favored the Ohio city.

The committee members will be the guests of President Coolidge at luncheon Wednesday and they will be given a banquet tomorrow night by Chairman Adams.

Among the questions that may come before the committee tomorrow is that of giving the women associate members full representation and voting powers. The committee also will hear protests, chiefly from the South against some of the 1924 convention leaders say no southern chances will be made. The proposed total of 1,036 delegates as compared with 986 in 1920, more increases having been made than reductions.

It was indicated today that President Coolidge still plans to send a message to South Dakota Republicans acknowledging the election and giving his last word by the State's propositus.

Many of the national committee men gathered here for the meeting of the committee beginning tomorrow called at the White House today to discuss politics with the president. Among them were F. H. Crocker, of California; John W. Hart, of Idaho; and Henry Lincoln Johnson, of Georgia. For years Mr. Crocker and Senator Johnson have belonged to opposing wings of the Republican State organization in California although during recent years their friends have sought in some degree to bring them together.

Co-Op Receipts to Exceed Record of Preceding Year

(Special from Tobacco Growers News Bureau)

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 8.—Deliveries to the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association reached a total of close to 1,000,000 pounds during the past week, according to the announcement of the association's department of all deliveries up to Saturday, December 8. Deliveries from Eastern North Carolina have already come to within a million and a half pounds of last year's receipts of the association in that district, and the South Carolina belt has delivered fourteen million pounds more to the co-operative market than was the case last year.

Since the announcement of the third payment to be made to the co-ops of Eastern Carolina on December 21 and the payment to the old belt members of the marketing association scheduled for early in the new year, there has been a very marked increase of deliveries to the cooperative receiving points.

All bright tobacco receiving points of the Co-operative Association in Virginia and North Carolina will close December eighteenth and reopen January eighth, according to the latest announcement of the association warehouse department.

The dark tobacco markets of the Co-operative Association will close December twentieth and reopen for delivery on January second.

Many high averages have been made by co-operative growers throughout the old belt of Virginia and North Carolina recently, in spite of lower prices quoted on the auction floors, among number of association which have received over twenty dollars a hundred average net cash advance for their loads are J. W. Adams, of Brookneal, Va., whose load of 707 pounds recently brought first cash advance of $156.25; T. C. Wagstaff, of Roxboro, N. C., whose load of 1092 pounds brought first cash advance of $23.10; J. W. H. Crambie, of Huddardsville, N. C., who averaged $22.06 a hundred pounds for his first cash advance of a recent load.

DANVILLE BOY GETS LETTER AT RANDOLPH-MACON

ASHLAND, Va., Dec. 8.—Announcement of the award of monograms for football were made by the Athletic Council of Randolph-Macon College through the president of the council, J. McE. Garrett. Letters go to thirteen players and the manager. Those receiving monograms are: Edward B. Snoot, of Millville, William H. Bell, Courtland, Charles A. Hales, Norfolk, Kenneth C. Crouse, Brooklyn, R. Harrison, Jr., South Hill, Stephen A. Kent, Ingram, John W. Rash, Dundas, Raymond Blackwell, Kenbridge, V. Coke Sturtevant, Lynchburg, Stuart Beal, Tunstall, Dice R. Anderson, Jr., Lynchburg, Frank J. Hall, Christiansburg, Frank Alvin, Drury, Miami, Florida, Manager W. Drury, Miami, Florida, Manager W. A. Sheffey, Lynchburg.

Snoot, captain for the past two years, received his fourth football monogram and completes his collegiate athletic career. He had played a consistent game at tackle and has seldom been out of the game; in his sophomore year he was used at end. His mention was made of the fact that he has played this year in every minute of every game played by the Yellow Jackets, no mean record considering the fact that most of Randolph-Macon's games were against much heavier opponents.

Hales, Crouse, Marks, and Kent make their letters for the second time. The other letter men get the thrill for the first time through several of them have been fighting for the coveted prize for more than one season. Urmy is the only letter man from the first year on the squad; five are seniors who have won their spurs after long service with the club.

Considered as a scrooling outfit, the Yellow Jacket team cannot be placed very high. But as a fighting outfit, maintaining spirit against the odds of hard weight and an unusually hard series of mishaps, the survivors have genuinely earned the right to wear the lemon R-M.

The season is not regarded here as by any means so disastrous as mere comparative scores lead outsiders to believe. Gue Welch has had the heartiest confidence of every one connected with the college and he has taught sound football and laid a foundation upon which to build. The team has sought to be thorough sportsmanlike and the good words that have come from rivals have been inflicted upon them during the season for infractions of any sort.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING IS ALREADY GETTING HEAVY

An awakening of ante-Christmas shopping activity has been noted in the city merchants during the past few days. In fact the number of persons who have been in the retail section making purchases for the festive season indicate that the early shopping habit is becoming general. A number of early shoppers have found it advantageous to secure their gifts for Christmas soon after the merchandise has been displayed and before it has been picked over.

Activity on Main street during the past three afternoons has given proof to the early buying with shopping crowds in evidence many of whom laden with their purchases. Others who have not yet bought are indulging in "window-shopping," visiting the various stores and seeing what they have to offer before they make their selection. Window dressing as the art is being practiced more and more by the local merchants. Unusually handsome displays are seen this year with an abundance of Christmas merchandise on view and attractively arranged. All of the stores have attractive windows this year which have been prepared for the Christmas business during the past few days. Among these is the handsome display of Z. V. Johnson who has had erected a formidable and compelling sign in front of his store adorned with electric lights, reels, blinds, gimbals, packages by the dozen, furniture company, and more elaborate displays have fine windows for the inspection.

The shopping public, many of smaller stores being equally anxious in bringing home the Christmas shopping message, during the next few days a perceptible increase in shopping is anticipated with the wide distribution of Christmas savings.

INTERNATIONAL FIRE BUG

(By the Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—A man who styled himself "the International fire bug" and who is said to have conspired to have set fire to buildings in Chicago, a hotel in Cleveland and a rooming house in Toledo, among a number of other fires in cities extending as far as the Pacific coast, was arrested here tonight.

Mental Flip-Flops For Daily Dozen

By STEVE HANNAGAN
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Do your daily dozen in comfort.

Take your physical exercise reclining on a divan, sitting in a chair, or any other convenient, comfortable posture, without the least exertion or discomfort.

You do it with your will.

In ten minutes of mental flip-flops in your parlor you can derive more benefit than from an hour's vigorous exercise in a gymnasium.

At least, that is the claim of Swami Yogananda, A. B., a Swami from India, who is here lecturing on Yogananda, or his muscle-will system of physical perfection.

When men or women exercise with dumb-bells they become dumb-bells," says the Swami, who admits he is more than 30, wears an orange robe and has enough long black hair to make any of the Sutherland sisters jealous.

"I insure movements in every part of the body in three lessons for anyone between the ages of 7 and 95," he said as he exhibited powers of muscle control that would turn a舞 dancer green with envy.

Stylish stout who would reduce can take off 20 pounds or less than two months by merely doing the Yogananda mental contortions ten minutes daily, according to the Swami.

The Swami claims he can teach any pupil to shut off power-burning nervous energy during much of the walking hours, just as one switches off the motor of an automobile when it is not in use.

"I expect to live forever," says the Swami, "my system brings everlasting PORTSMOUTH, Va., Dec. 8.—Fire which broke out in the lumber shed of the Arbuckle Lumber plant on the Southern branch, South Norfolk, at 9 o'clock, was still burning at 12 o'clock tonight. Fire fighting apparatus from Norfolk and Berkley are on the scene but the blaze is still beyond control. The damage, it was estimated, probably has reached $50,000.

Two million barrel staves in the lumber shed were burned. Through combined efforts of the fire fighting boat Vulcan of Norfolk, two tugs from the Navy Yard, three fire boats from the newly commissioned battleship West Virginia and Langley, now at the local yard, the blaze was confined to the lumber shed and the manufacturing plant of the lumber company was not burned.

The fire was discovered by the superintendent of the South Norfolk yards of Norfolk-Portsmouth Belt Line Railway about 9:30 o'clock. It had gained considerable headway before fire fighting forces arrived and was brought under control shortly after midnight.

Sailors from the newly commissioned battleship West Virginia at the Navy Yard here aided in fighting a fire that partly destroyed a large lumber warehouse of the Arbuckle Lumber Company's plant on the Southern branch, South Norfolk last night causing damage of approximately $50,000. The Norfolk fire boat Vulcan and sailors from the airplane carrier Langley also were fighting the blaze which started at 9:30

A secret my neighbor told me and how I answered it

An article by Mrs. J. E. H., an experienced housewife of Richmond, Va.

"What's the matter?" I asked.
Then she told me.

I AM old enough to be her mother, and I reckon that's why she asked me to come over. She had been married only three months, and it did my heart good to see that spotless kitchen—like a show room in a furniture store. She was almost heartbroken when I came in. I asked, "What's the matter?" Then she told me.

INSECTS IN FLOUR

To make a long story short, she had found insects in her flour, and she considered it a reflection upon the cleanliness of her brand-new home. I said; "Now, listen, dear; these are not home-grown animals, they were imported." What do you mean?" she asked.

SAFE IN ROPAX

Then I told her how I never have any trouble like that because I always get my flour in ROPAX—the Sanitary Rope Paper Sacks. Insects cannot get through paper and they cannot lay their eggs in paper, because it is not porous. There is no place. My little friend next door has never had that trouble again, because she took my advice. She, too, insists upon having the protection of ROPAX.

The only way I can account for the fact that all housewives don't ask for ROPAX is because they don't know about them.

STRONG SACKS

ROPAK—the Sanitary Rope Paper Sacks—are so strong you can hardly realize they are made of paper.

They are not porous. The flour cannot sift out of the sack, and for the same reason dirt and germs and insects cannot sift in. Flour that comes in ROPAX—the Sanitary Rope Paper Sacks—is just as clean and pure as when it left the mill.

WATER-PROOF—ODOR-PROOF

Even water cannot harm your flour in ROPAX. The rope paper sheds water like a duck's feathers. It is not only water-proof, it's odor-proof.

MAKES FLOUR COST LESS

It may be hard to believe it, but in spite of all the advantages of ROPAX—the Sanitary Rope Paper Sacks—they make your flour cost less. Of course you know you pay for the sacks when you buy flour.

Rope paper sacks cost less, so your flour costs less. There is another saving: In its journey from the mill to your kitchen cabinet, no flour can sift through the bag. There is no waste. You get all the flour you pay for.

ASK YOUR GROCER

Your grocer is probably just like mine. He wants to sell the things his customers want to buy. Ask him for your flour in ROPAX—the Sanitary Rope Paper Sacks—the next time you buy. If he hasn't it, he will get it. The trade mark "ROPAX" is on the bag in the upper left hand corner, so that you can see exactly what you are getting.

Fatal Shooting Affray Occurs In Reidsville

$150 bond arranged for, left the house but returned at about seven o'clock, at which time he said he had entered the home of Moore with his revolver and to have started shooting almost immediately. He emptied his pistol and in the confusion threefold casualties occurred. After the shooting he made his escape and a broadcast warning was sent out to all parts of two States. Danville officers were on the watch for Carter all night—also Schofield officers where he was well-known.

Carter's version of the affair is different from those reports emanating from Reidsville. He claims it took his son to see one of his children living with his wife who left him three weeks ago and that Price attacked him with a club.

A report for The Bee saw Carter upon arrival in Danville before eight o'clock. He was found in state of nervous excitement. He was asked if he had any statement he might wish to make and at first refused. Then as the reporter turned to leave, he burst into tears and a flood of words flowed from his lips in an effort to offer an explanation of the shooting. It was an incoherent story. As he endeavored to tell it he fumbled in his pocket and brought out a packet of papers and letters which he declared were affidavits bearing on the alleged misconduct of his wife. One of them was a letter which he said had been sent him by J. H. Price a year ago. It bore the signature of Carter by that name and was a rude letter, insolent in tone and couched in unpleasant language.

Carter said he was 52 years of age and said he had never been in trouble before. Yesterday he stated, his son from the navy, came to Stokesdale to see him and expressed a desire to see his baby sister. The accused man said his wife left him three weeks ago and had carried away the four children he loved. Taking his son with him he drove to Reidsville and went to his wife's home in order that his son might see the little girl. There was some trouble and Carter says he was set upon by members of the household. Policemen he said, hurried up and found an empty revolver in his car and they placed him under bond to appear in Reidsville today. Carter said he drove to his home and later decided to go back to try and reason things out with his wife so that she would not appear in court against him and thus drag their domestic affairs into public. He said he went armed, because his life had been threatened. As he entered the room of Levin Moore's house, he found a number of people there. Price, he said, was among them and seeing him enter he drew a pistol and attempted to strike him with it. It was then he stated, that he drew his revolver and fired. He never meant to hit his wife, he said, with tears streaming down his cheeks. "I did not mean to hurt her. I did mean to shoot Price. Do you blame me?" He kept jumping around the room and I kept firing at him. I do not know how many other people I hit."

Carter said after the shooting he got into his car and drove back to Stokesdale. The engine stopped near Stokesdale, he said, because of lack of gasoline and he stated he entered the rear seat and went to sleep. He woke up, found he had and made his way to his home in Stokesdale, arriving there before daybreak. He had been there but a short time when a posse of armed men surrounded the house and took charge of him, bringing him to Danville.

Carter said that he dearly loved his children and that domestic difficulties had been preying on his mind for a long time. He said that his wife had treated him badly and he referred several times to her alleged misconduct with Price. He stated he had been raised in Danville and cited the names of several prominent men who, he said, were members of the same fraternal organizations of which he is a member.

Carter is well-known in Danville. He resigned his position as insurance agent with the Life Insurance Company of Virginia about a week ago, telling one of his neighbors in that company that his health was bad. This morning he said that his domestic affairs had so preyed on his mind that he could not do effective work.

At one time Carter was employed at the Park Place Mercantile Company at Schoolfield, and several years ago is said to have negotiated for the purchase of real estate for the textile corporation. He said this morning that he had been twice married and that his second marriage had been unhappy of recent years. Some time ago he left Danville and went to Roanoke where he had lived and where, he stated, his home affairs had not improved.

A Reidsville officer this morning quoted Mrs. Carter as having said during the earlier episode of yesterday afternoon that Carter had three wives living.

In the course of his statement this morning Carter reiterated several times his contention for a children and the void in his heart caused when they left his home at Stokesdale and went away with their mother to live with their father. Mrs. Carter is said to have left her husband on two occasions. It is stated.

Rev. C. L. Garrison Preaches Strong Sermon On "The Sovereignty of Law"

Rev. Charles L. Garrison last night delivered an impressive and inspiring sermon to the congregation of the Jefferson Avenue Congregational church, speaking on "The Sovereignty of Law" and taking as the text of his sermon Romans 13: 1, 2—"Let every soul be subject unto higher powers; whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinances of God."

Opening with a reference to the present times of confusion and tumult, Dr. Garrison spoke in part as follows:

"... In the midst of the swirling changes of our time, the arrogant claims of finality and impudent claims on the part of individuals and groups and in view of the confusion and clash of opinions about this, that and almost everything, it behoves us to think soberly, see what we see clearly, and to be persuaded in our own minds. Those who follow blind guides will end in the ditch. Those who try to serve a plurality of masters will suffer intellectual disorganization and spiritual bankruptcy. Those who swallow entirely all the pessimism now current will be bound and paralyzed by a defeatist view of the world. Those who believe that nothing conceivable, nothing educational and constructive, can be done; that the very best we can do is to fold our arms and sit down and wait for something millennial and catastrophic to happen, whereby the twinkle of an eye old wrongs shall be righted and new and wondrous prerogatives unfolded—are both deaf to the warnings of God's word and blind to the most obvious things of history."

"... A poor government, an arbitrary, even a cruel government, is far better than no government at all. But the sovereign rights of the individual, and the social weal of the people, are conserved and furthered by wise, humane and vigorous governments whose laws are made with equity and enforced with fear or favor. Such governments are necessarily endowed with power."

Laws Should be obeyed

"We have Sunday laws, but we esteem them lightly. And we have a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture, transportation and sale of intoxicating beverages. In addition to this fundamental law, we have state legislation providing penalties for its violation. With many people our liquor laws are confessedly unpopular."

Insurance Man Is Gravely Charged

J. H. Ellis, aged 28, an insurance man of this city is in jail, held in default of $5,000 bond on a warrant charging him with a criminal attack on Miss Ethel Yeatts, 21, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Yeatts of this city, last night at about half past nine o'clock. The case is to be called in the police court tomorrow morning. The offense charged is a capital crime and carries with it a penalty ranging from three years to death in the discretion of the jury. According to police officers who verbally examined the man last night he has compromised himself to a certain degree, by a statement made in the presence of witness.

The arrest was made by Police Officer Foster Harris and Park Policeman J. P. Bennett. The two officers, who were patrolling a wide beat became suspicious, followed an automobile across Schoolfield bridge and up Hughes Hill road. Seeing the car which had turned off into a body of woods, the officers dimmed their lights and followed slowly. When they interfered, declaring that they heard protestations from the young woman and other evidences that she was being dealt with by force, Ellis was removed to the city jail by the officers on the basis of evidence discovered by the officers and the young woman, unstrung and nervous, was conveyed to her home. Officers questioned her last night and quoted her as saying that Ellis had taken her against her will out for an automobile ride last night. Police Sergeant J. L. Edwards, who enquired into the affair, said he had learned from Miss Yeatts, that a third person in the car was dropped at her home on Paxton street and that after this had been done Ellis drove his car out West Main street and over the river bridge despite the earnest protestations of his companion. The policemen state that they interfered when a struggle took place. The accused was sober at the time of his arrest, the officers also state.

Ellis was stated this morning has retained counsel to represent him and will be given an opportunity of meeting the serious charges preferred against him this morning.

Drama Well Received. A more delightful bit of drama has not been presented in Danville than the Clumax which was seen at the Masonic Temple hall Saturday evening, presented by four New York artists, under the auspices of the Ways and Means Committee of the Wednesday Club. The members of the club were excellent in their roles, playing with remarkable skill, the whole play practically without scenery, depending on the voice to carry the interpretations of the thoughts. It was unfortunate that any of the seats were left vacant since there were so many who would have been glad to have seen the play and had the pleasure of hearing Adele's wonderfully fine rendition of "The Song of the South."

Lungi Gofanti and his son, Pietro, were delightfully natural in their parts. The young doctor was less pleasing, but he had the more difficult part of the villain to play.

D. A. R. Meeting. There will be no December meeting of the Dorothea Henry Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and all members who have not paid their dues are requested to send the amount of Mrs. S. E. CAVERDALE SAYS SAPIRO BEHIND HIS DISCHARGE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation, today voted to accept the resignation of J. W. Coverdale, of Iowa, secretary of the federation.

"It's not a resignation; it's a discharge," he said later, declaring his ousting was "an Sapiro-Lowden move."

Mr. Coverdale referred to Aaron Sapiro, of California, co-operative counsel for the federation. He hinted that national politics and Governor Frank O'Lowden's "aspirations" were behind the move to oust him.

Mr. Coverdale's friends are said to resent the action of the outgoing executive committee as a mere compromise elected. Wisconsin. They predicted that the new belt delegates would respond to the action today by choosing an executive committee of an entirely different complexion.

British Cabinet Meets Tomorrow

Country Will Then Learn What Baldwin Will Do—Rumors That He Will Resign Are Denied.

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The British people apparently must wait until tomorrow's cabinet meeting before learning how Prime Minister Baldwin purposes to act in the present political crisis. Rumors that he had already decided to resign are branded as untrue.

His opponents in his conservative quarters advise him not to resign. His opponents as strongly insist that it is impossible to remain as prime minister.

The Daily Mail says that at a weekend conference three of the cabinet urged the premier to resign immediately and advise the king to invite Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, to form a cabinet, a course to which Mr. Baldwin agreed. The other ministers emphatically dissented, saying that the circumstances demanded continuance of the conservative government with a new premier.

This group, the newspaper adds, proposed Austen Chamberlain as premier. They also, the newspaper states, sounded the liberal leaders as to whether such a combination might not be the most expedient way of turning the Liberal party to its turn.

Several Liberal papers, however, say that on no account will the Liberal party assent to any sort of Conservative-Liberal coalition. One Conservative paper says only the Lloyd Georgeans desire such a coalition.

The Times says it is Mr. Baldwin's duty to hold on until Parliament meets and their fate inevitable.

In several quarters there is a growing expectation that Mr. Baldwin will advise the king to invite Mr. MacDonald to form a cabinet.

Labor's newspaper, the Daily Herald, says that in normal circumstances MacDonald rightly would refuse to go on the ground that an office without power is useless, but the paper hints that he would now accept office on the theory that the unemployed would taunt the Labor party with shirking its duty if he declined.

The Morning Post says that a Socialist ministry would do so much mischief that the country would soon be glad to recall the Conservatives.

Appeals His Case to Circuit Court

Charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated were preferred last night against Edward Walton, of Clover by Police Officers Cole and Swanson of the Schoolcraft force. The case came up before Magistrate R. S. Pitts this morning who imposed on Walton a fine and costs totalling $115.25 and revoked the driver's license for a period of a year. No charge was preferred against Walton's companion, Peuleton Hughes. The charge was resisted, an emphatic denial being entered by Walton which was also voiced by Hughes. An appeal was taken to the circuit court in Chatham a bond of $200 being given. It will be heard by Judge Turner Clement.

According to the young men a sharp verbal tilt preceded the detention of Walton some words being passed between Hughes and the officers who were in another car. The officers ordered them to stop and, it is asserted, Walton if he had been drinking. He is reported to have said that a friend in Reidsville had given him a drink but that he denied that he was driving the car under the influence of liquor. Police Officer Cole, however, this morning insisted that the accused was in that state. Under the decision of the court Walton cannot drive a car for a period of twelve months in Virginia. He has active charge of a tobacco warehouse in Clover, it is said, and was here for the week-end.

Explosion Destroys Hulk of Launch

(By The Associated Press)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Dec. 10.—The bulk of the launch, Sadie, destroyed in an explosion last night off Seawall Point, was found off the Boulevard near this city this morning. In the boat was the body of Luther King, master of the craft who lost his life when the gasoline tank blew up last night. King's body was burned and mangled almost beyond recognition.

Yesterday's answer:

To escape from the forty-foot tower with twenty-foot rope was not a difficult matter. The prisoner unbound the strands of the rope, each more than sufficient to bear his weight. By knotting the ends of the two ropes, he formed one long rope almost forty feet in length, with which he made his escape.

Insurgents' Ranks Increased as They Advance to Capital

Oregon government engendered by Adolfo De La Huerta, presidential candidate and former secretary of the treasury.

General Martinez left Juarez with a staff early today for the south on a special train with his reported destinyation as Chihuahua. It also was reported in El Paso last night that a portion of the Juarez garrison had been ordered to entrain for Torreon but up to early today no troop movements had been noticed. Torreon, in the state of Coahuila, is an important railroad center and its possession by military faction is admitted as advantageous.

News dispatches continue to trickle into border town. Associated Press dispatches last night were received by way of Laredo and some were more than 24 hours delayed in transmission.

Rail communication between Juarez and Mexico has been severed, according to passengers arriving from Torreon. Trains were turned back north from Torreon Friday. Reports are that revolutionists have blown up a section of the line at Canitas, state of Zacatecas, 814 kilometers north of Mexico City.

Border towns generally are quiet, although Juarez was a bit nervous last night. Reports from various sections of the border are to the effect that government authorities are making sure that officials friendly to the Oregon government are held in reserve in the local government seats and that the military has taken over policing at some points.

CAPTURE OF CAPITAL OF VERA CRUZ CONFIRMED

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10.—Capture of Jalapa, capital of the state of Veracruz this (Saturday morning), by rebel forces was officially confirmed here tonight. With this single success, it was declared in official quarters that the revolt headed by General Guadalupe Sanchez who favors the presidential candidacy of Adolfo De La Huerta had reached the maximum development possible with the nucleus of the outbreak centered at the city of Vera Cruz and in the states of Guadalajara and Jalisco.

The defenders of Jalapa, a portion of the federal garrison which refused to join the revolutionaries, retired to the nearby village of Oriental, together with 2,000 volunteer agrarians who were poorly equipped. At Oriental this badly organized force will await reinforcements, officers and proper equipment, it was stated.

It was officially reiterated that the widespread conspiracy hatched by active conservatives supporting the De La Huerta was doomed to fail, first distance it is not supported by the popular classes of Mexicans, second, because the government has been unable to surround the affected districts with a superior force of federal troops, standing loyalty with the administration; third, because the De La Huerta elements have failed to subordinate the military forces at San Luis Potosi which would have interrupted Mexico City-Laredo communications as well as communications in Tamaulipas controlling the oil fields and, fourth, because President Obregon, instead of being incapacitated from illness, showed surprising and unexpected energy in rushing to the capital from Oaxaca and placing himself in active leadership of the campaign against the revolutionaries.

General Rosendo Figueroa, who a fortnight ago took the field against the state government in Guerrero, has surrendered and is expected to reach Mexico City tonight. Reports that General Francisco Urbalejo, commanding a column sent into Guerrero, had joined the revolutionists were declared to be false.

The possibility that Hipolito Villa had taken the field in the vicinity of Canutillo in the state of Durango was admitted officially but it was not known whether he was still with the rebels. Reports that he was alive and incapable of gathering an important following.

As far as can be learned in official winks.

THE COUNCIL SHOULD "CARRY ON"

The city council tomorrow night will face two alternatives in dealing finally with the city home project long discussed and the object of solicitude by a considerable number of people in this community. The one course is the fulfillment of what is generally conceived to be a promise that the almshouse would be rebuilt and an institution worthy of the name would be established for the unfortunate poor of the city who for years have been compelled to live in a "home" and which, upon inspection, leaves one shuddering. The other is a recently conceived plan of spending a smaller sum in renovating the present almshouse and endeavoring to restore it to something like a comfortable home for old people who have outlived their own usefulness and very often what is more tragic, outlived the very people they might look to, to be taken care of during the evening of their lives. The Bee believes now as it did when the almshouse project was first broached that the council should carry out its original intention and should keep faith with that element of the people who believe that the new institution should be provided and that it is not practicable to invest ten thousand dollars in the present buildings which in winter time and bad weather are isolated because of the lack of a road leading to them and which have so many basic faults that any expenditure at that point would be imprudent.

Failure at this stage to complete the project launched nine months ago and for which purpose a commission of citizens was appointed to work out in detail the plan will be a distinct disappointment to that substantial element of the community which had thought for several months that a blemish on the community was in a fair way to be wiped out. It would also be a misfortune to be compelled to see Danville's city home project after careful planning and a good deal of devotion on the part of the city home commission scrapped at the eleventh hour and relegated to the classification of the Danville Library of painful memory.

WEEKS WANTS AN ARMY

John W. Weeks, secretary of war, in his annual report to Congress, follows the precedent established by other heads of the war office. He sounds the alarm, he wants the army increased from 125,000 to 150,000 men "at the earliest possible date." We are dangerously weak.

"Since 1921 the number of men under military training or belonging to military organizations has decreased from 512,041 to 505,919—a diminution of 15,031. In two years, or it may be three years, since the secretary has not given the specific date on which the former count was made

With the most effective navy in the world guarding our coasts, with half a million potential warriors and with a few millions more who have not entirely forgotten the training they received not so long since, it would seem that we are in pretty fair shape to meet an enemy—the more so as no enemy is apparent anywhere on the horizon. But Mr. Weeks thinks otherwise. We must be better prepared against something or other. But what? Europe is a collection of nations snapping against another, a pack of wolves ready to leap at the throat of the first one of the gang that gets into trouble. Where is the nation that would attack us? Not Great Britain which "abhors the idea of the English-speaking race committing suicide." Not France, in fear of a German rival. Not Italy, on the verge of bankruptcy. Not Japan, immersed in domestic problems and without an ally. Wherein lies the danger? But the secretary has other grounds. "Military preparations cost us roughly one-eighteenth of what we spend for luxuries, amusements and mild vices," he says. "We could afford to spend (on defense) many times what we do."

Of course we could. John D. Rockefeller could afford to own 50,000 motor cars, but he doesn't, not having any need for them. What is there about an army that is so wonderful that we ought to have just as big a one as we can afford?

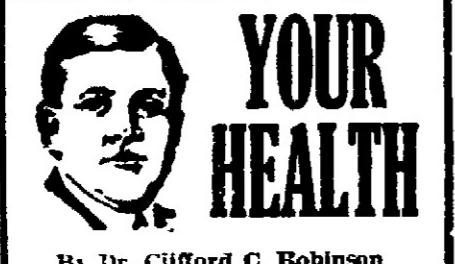

An army always is an economic loss, except as insurance; and since insurance should be proportionate to the risk, and our risk is extremely small, we have little need of a great army.

TEACHING THRIFT

Many Danville residents will have impressed upon them within the next few days the value of consistent saving. One bank will begin this week making out the grist of annual Christmas savings club checks to subscribers and the total distribution will amount to a considerable sum. Under the rules of the savings club conducted by the bank, each member is required to deposit a definite amount each week, and the checks not being received cannot but serve as impressive evidence of the value in saving even a small sum each week.

Another bank is soon to pay out a dividend among children who seized the opportunity to use the automatic banks placed in the city schools to encourage thrift. The combined amount of savings secured through these banks is a good one but the actual cash return is of less value than the principle of thrift which is thereby inculcated in the youthful mind.

The Christmas savings club plan, inaugurated by the banks of the nation but a few years ago, has been accepted by a host of people as the means either for forming the nucleus of a permanent bank account or for providing a definite sum of money for their annual Christmas buying. In either instance the clubs are demonstrating annually to thousands of people what can be accomplished through thrift, in either a small way or a big way. The average club member is having it proven to himself that if it is possible to accumulate even a small sum through meagre weekly saving, it is possible to accumulate an impressive sum by practice of thrift and adherence to a definite plan for saving.

YOUR HEALTH
By Dr. Clifford C. Robinson

TYPHOID FEVER

Typhoid fever occurs most in summer and early fall.

The typhoid bacillus seems to be somewhat irregular in susceptibility of different individuals. Its favorite range is both males and females from 15 to 16 years old to about 35. Don't let your summer vacation be broken up and your after life interfered with by contracting this disease.

If your vacation is spent in the city, your chance of infection is rather remote. Cities have reduced typhoid almost to the minimum. In 1922 the extremely low rate of .35 for every hundred thousand persons was averaged by the large cities of the United States.

Drinking water is a common source of typhoid infection. If you are drinking well water in a rural district, and are not sure, boil the water. Don't drink raw milk unless you wish to invite typhoid bacilli to dwell in you.

Watch for the common house fly. He is a carrier of this trouble. Avoid bathing in polluted water. Persons who have had typhoid may continue to carry the bacilli in their systems for weeks and even months. Such persons are called "typhoid carriers." Be on the lookout also for this bacilli in polluted soil.

Typhoid begins with a slight headache, loss of appetite and lassitude. There is some fever and restlessness at night but nothing of a pronounced nature so that one may be on guard.

This is just the trouble—you have contracted typhoid and don't know it.

The safe way is always to have your guard up and not give this bacilli a half a chance.

WILL INSIST ON RESIGNATION OF GOV. W. T. MCGRAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 8.—Declaring he had "done my best in sparing the disgrace to the Republican party," Clyde A. Walb, Republican chairman tonight sent telegrams to United States James E. Watson, Postmaster General Harry S. New, J. B. Keating, Republican national committeeman for Indiana, and the Republican members in Congress from Indiana, to give approval to his endeavors to force the resignation of Warren T. McCray, as governor of the state, because of the executive's indictment on serious charges by the Marion county grand jury.

With the most effective navy in the world guarding our coasts, with half a million potential warriors and with a few millions more who have not entirely forgotten the training they received not so long since, it would seem that we are in pretty fair shape to meet an enemy—the more so as no enemy is apparent anywhere on the horizon. TO RAISE ENGINEERING STANDARDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—In an effort to raise the standards of engineering education in the United States the Carnegie Corporation of

New York has appropriated $108,000 for the study of the subject. W. E. Wickenden, assistant vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been appointed director of the study. He will report to a committee of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

This appropriation is the direct result of efforts by a development committee appointed in the summer of 1922 to study for three years the development of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education and to formulate an answer to the question "What can the society do in a comprehensive way to develop, broaden and enrich engineering education?"

Annual Gridiron Dinner Is Held In Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON. Dec. 8.—With President Coolidge as its principal guest, the gridiron club of Washington correspondents at its winter dinner tonight, drew upon New England as the setting for its pleasantries and quips.

"The Pilgrims" of 1923 were pictures laying plans to repel the onslaught of Senator Hiram Johnson and others of a "hostile" tribe of Indians. The usual array of notables in official and business life sat about the tables and enjoyed the fun. President Coolidge's two sons, John and Calvin, were present, also ten sons of former presidents, invited as special guests.

The Pilgrim skit was the piece de resistance of the evening. In the background was a view of the presidential yacht Mayflower, riding at anchor.

Pilgrim Stearns (Frank W. Stearns, of Boston, the president's friend and adviser) led the way for a band of New Englanders. John W. Weeks (elder), Henry Cabot Lodge and others, all in Pilgrim dress and carrying feathered bonnets. Heralded by war whoops in the distance, the leaders of the "Indians" one by one, entered and conversed with the colonists.

Big Chief Magnus Johnson: "Does anybody here speak Spanish?"

Secretary Slemp: "I speak all Congressional dialects, chief, and your's is no worse than many I have heard."

Magnus Johnson was followed by LaFollette, Borah and Hiram Johnson, in the dress of Indian braves. Each declared himself the leader of the tribe of hostile Indians. Hiram Johnson, the last of the Indians to appear, declared he was out "to kill a Pilgrim." The rival chiefs departed noisily and with a ran on the stage, pursued by Elder James E. Watson. She was the "spirit of the world court." Lodge seized the witch, and Watson ordered her conducted to the capitol and "committed to the custody of the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate."

"And," concluded Watson, "may God have mercy on your soul."

The closing scene showed Priscilla dashing on the stage. Across the front of her dress was a placard: "The 1924 Nomination."

Archy, Priscilla told the colonists of others who have sought her hand—Herbert Hoover, Charles Hughes, Frank Lowden—and of that present, "insistent suitor," Gifford Pinchot. And all the while she added, the Indians are threatening to carry her off.

Weeks declared that all her old suitors would defend her against the Indians and "would go down to political death" before permitting her to fall in the hands of "that Indian," Hiram Johnson. He asked for a word of hope for Captain Coolidge and the maid replied:

"Why does not he come himself and take the trouble to woo me? If I am not worth the wooing, I am surely not worth the winning. Surely a maid worth courting must also be worth the asking. Granted Calvin is silent, he must find words if he wants me. If he seeks me, let him ask; till then I answer silence with silence."

Then there was a take off of the "press conference" between correspondents and cabinet officers. Half a dozen reporters were calling on a high official, wearing whiskers. The official artfully concealed his mind with a wilderness of words.

The official said: "The Johnsons roar like gorillas, the Underwoods coo."

"Yes, but yes we have no policy, excepting Mr. Hughes."

A reporter asked: "I'd like to have you say, sir, if McCormick's charge is true?"

"Are you a coy lotophagus, or is that word taboo?"

And the high official countered: "I cannot deal with persons who refer to me in malice."

"The lotus is a plant. I think: see Secretary Wallace."

Numerous officials of the government were made the target of "snappers" set off, apparently at random, between the longer skits. For instance a club member interrupted to repeat a rumor that Attorney General Daugherty is about to begin a smashing trust-busting campaign. He wanted to know when it would start.

"When does the Republican party nominate its candidate for the presidency?" asked President Henning, of the club.

"About June 10th next."

"Well," asked Henning, "what more information do you want?"

Finally the gridiron singers addressed President Coolidge seated at the table with the president of the club, beseeching him in song to top the dinner with a speech.

The inviolable rule of the gridiron club, however, prevents reporting what President Coolidge said. The same applied with remarks of George Harvey, Senator Magnus Johnson and Dr. Garfield.

William E. Brigham, Washington correspondent of the Boston Transcript, was elected president of the gridiron club at its annual meeting today.

Mrs. Frank Jones and her mother, Mrs. W. W. Fulton, have been called to Miami, Fla., on account of the illness of Mrs. Fulton's mother.

Business Treaty With Germany to Bring Old Status

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON. D. C., Dec. 8.—Announcement was made at the State department today that a commercial treaty had been signed with Germany to replace the similar convention abrogated at the time of the war, and that instructions had been sent to the minister at the Hague, Richard M. Tobin, to begin negotiations of a similar treaty with the Dutch government.

This action marks a forward step in the purpose of the Washington government to make over all of its general commercial agreements with other countries in the light of changed world conditions since the world war. Similar negotiations have been in progress in Madrid for several months and are now being conducted with the Turkish government and with several Latin-American countries. No detailed information concerning the negotiations, however, has been made available here beyond that all of the new treaties are to rest upon most favored nation treatment for American nationals.

With the signing of the new German treaty another international agreement has been added to the list which awaits Senate ratification. The two claims conventions with Mexico, which are the basis of restoration of diplomatic relations between Washington and Mexico City, will be sent to the Senate next week.

Behind some of the agreements lie the special liquor treaties now in progress of negotiation and hinging to some extent upon the final outcome of conversations with the British government.

"At the time Secretary Hughes sent to London his draft treaty proposing a twelve mile right of search for contraband liquor as a measure of reciprocity for treaty agreements which would remove prohibition enforcement regulations against the carriage of ships' liquor stores under seal in American territorial waters, he made similar proposals to practically all other maritime nations, including the Netherlands.

The announcement from the Hague today that negotiations had been begun there for a Dutch-American liquor treaty is the first indication that the British American conversations have reached a point where the state department feels justified in taking up active negotiations with the other powers addressed in the original proposals.

Before the British attitude had developed off the double-barreled plan proposed by Mr. Hughes to deal with ships' liquor embarrassments and the smuggling evil off the American coast, and the assent of the British conference of premiers had been given to that project, intimations had reached the Washington government from other capitals that the project would be looked upon favorably by those governments. Active conversations were delayed, however, pending a decision by Great Britain in the matter.

Negotiations similar to those at the Hague are expected in Paris, Madrid, Rome, Tokyo and certain Latin-American capitals.

OREGON CITIZENS VOTE FOR DOUBLE TAXATION

By The Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 8.—Oregon, through action of the state legislature, ratified by a small majority of voters at a referendum election, has adopted a state income tax, modeled on the federal income tax. The state tax, which must be paid on the net income of individuals and of corporations doing business in the state, is pyramided on top of the federal income tax. In other words, persons subject to income tax pay twice to the state as well as to the federal government.

The law provides a rate of one per cent on the first $1,000 of taxable income, or any part thereof, and increases one-half of one per cent to $12,000, and for sums in excess of $12,000 the rate is 6 per cent. The exemptions provided in the state law are similar to those of the federal income tax law.

BROTHER PITTED AGAINST OWN SISTER

NEWKIRK, Okla., Dec. 10.—Brother and sister arraigned against each other.

A pretty olive-skinned, dark-eyed lad of 16 disowning the woman who claims to be her mother.

And a fortune of $15,000,000 at stake.

That's the tangle a hundred of the most brilliant legal minds in the southwest are trying to unravel now.

And new complexities, it seems, are arising almost daily.

The real fight is just starting. The battleground is the courthouse here.

The case? Well, on the court journal it's simply entered as,

Just "A Suit"

A suit by Gregorio Velazquez Carmichael, a minor, through his guardian, P. S. Mason, vs. Dorothy Carmichael, a minor, through her guardian, Sarah Pettit.

On the plaintiff's side of the trial table will sit a 13-year-old boy from the far off Philippines—a lad named Mrs. Pettit. Mrs. Pettit is half owner in the contested properties. A few covered in a village in the interior of the islands and still untouched by civilization.

Gregorio Velazquez Carmichael, now on his way to this country to claim a half share in the estate royalties from rich oil lands recently amassed for the girl he calls his sister.

With him will be his aunt, Mrs. Justa Velazquez Carmichael, who contends she is the widow of Dugal Carmichael, a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

And this fact, she contends, makes her the mother of both Gregorio and Dorothy.

On the defendant's side will be Dorothy, whose present royalties from the gushers on a little farm near Ponca City amount to $1000 daily. The farm once had been her father's.

With her will be her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Pettit, sister of Dugal Carmichael, who claims to be the mother of each.

To share in their millions is what the disputed brother is fighting for.

And the silent little Filipino woman who claims to be the mother of each watches the spectacle with tragic eyes.

Gold has built a forbidding barrier about the trio. And not even love can surmount it.

A few years ago oil was discovered on the inherited property.

Black gold rushed from the land.

And almost over night Dorothy and her aunt were made immensely wealthy.

To share in their millions is what the disputed brother is fighting for.

And the silent little Filipino woman who claims to be the mother of each watches the spectacle with tragic eyes.

Gold has built a forbidding barrier about the trio. And not even love can surmount it.

Millions Involved

Mrs. Pettit and Dorothy contend the Filipino lad and his mother are imposters attempting to wrest from Dorothy a share in her vast estate.

But attorneys for Gregorio maintain he is the brother she never has seen—except through baby eyes.

And they have brought Gregorio's mother over from her island home to substantiate their contentions.

She asks nothing for herself, but a half interest of $7,000,000 for her son.

According to the boy's attorneys, Dugal Carmichael, when mustered out of service after the war with Spain, remained in the Philippines and married a native girl. Two children, the girl, Dorothy, and the boy, Gregorio, were born to them. Shortly after Gregorio's birth, when Dorothy was, the father died, leaving as his only estate the few forgotten Oklahoma acres.

INDUSTRY IS NOW ABSORBING LABOR

BY A. P. YORDER.
CHICAGO. Dec. 8.—Altho the Chicago labor market is glutted with men seeking jobs today, federal and state employment offices united in declaring that within the next few weeks the greater number will have been absorbed by industrial concerns in nearby territory. Laborers have been pouring into the city from harvest fields and road construction in some sections has been halted by delayed cold weather. The streets just north of the Chicago river which constitute Chicago's labor curb exchange, look like a busy section of the shopping district just before Christmas. Many workers, however, are going to log harvesting fields and to railroad construction and repair jobs in the southwest.

This Little World

By CASUAL STROLER

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Lawn on the lower end of Manhattan Island a skyscraper is rising.

In its outer appearance it is no different from the scores of others that raise their giant heads to the sky. But this one is different.

It is an artificial human being, product of the mind of man. Its thousands of arms, far outflung, reach from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Though its giant skeleton of steel, encased in flesh of brick and stone, run the nerves of wire, carrying their messages of joy and sorrow, of pain and well-being, of death and life.

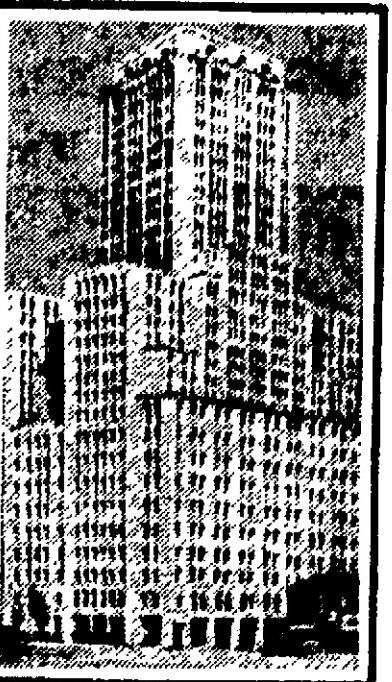

For this skyscraper is the new home of the New York Telephone Company, now under course of construction.

Beneath its roof will be housed more telephone equipment than is found in many European countries, enough to serve as many telephones as there are in a city the size of Cincinnati.

Upon seven of its acre-size floors will be bank upon bank, and row upon row of the new machine-switching apparatus, which will serve 120,000 telephones. To handle all these phones in the completion of calls from manual stations, only 400 operators will be required.

In the cable vaults of the four-story basement will be a total of 422 lead-covered telephone cables, containing 692,000 separate and individual telephone wires, grouped in sheaths no larger than a man's wrist. From this meeting place the wires fan out as trunk lines to cover a city and nation.

The basement also will be a storage battery and charging plant capable of furnishing enough electric current to light the homes of a large town. The batteries weigh about 500 tons, and contain enough current to light 18,000 25-watt lamps for eight hours. Thirty-five motor generators will keep the batteries charged. These generators have a 2000-horse-power capacity.

Above the first seven floors will be the business and administrative offices were 7000 people will spend their working hours.

Altogether the building will be 29 stories, 404 feet high. It will rise straight for 17 stories, and then, in accordance with the zoning laws, the remaining 12 floors will be in a setback.

A total of 680,000 square feet of working space will be provided, of which the machine-switching equipment will require about 280,000 feet.

A long way, indeed, has the telephone traveled from the day when 15 boys ran the lone switchboard of New

Mind Babies On Railway

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Warning milk for a baby, wrapping a passenger's mashed finger, even cashing a check for a worthy-looking person who must ride—these are part of the day's work for Britton I. Budd's conductors just as much as collecting tickets.

Budd thus explains why the Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee railroad was picked to receive the Charles A. Coffin medal. This is for "distinguished contribution to the development of electric transportation for the convenience of the public and the benefit of the industry."

Road Rejuvenated

It also helps explain the road's attainment of this honor in the seven years since Budd assumed control of the line with equipment, morale and prestige broken by a decade under receivership.

"We set a high standard for the road, and appealed to our employees' pride to reach and maintain it," explains President Budd. "Our men are working to give more than is required, to make the passenger feel like a guest and a friend.

"We set out to develop the best electric railroad in the United States. It takes a road to work toward, if definite results are to be accomplished. Today, I believe honestly that a majority of our men feel they are working for the best road."

Both Sides Help

The company is doing its share in co-operation, too. Recently the conductors and motormen were given a pay increase not called for in the wage agreement effective until June. "The company is doing well," was the explanation given. Stock is sold employees on installment payments, in addition to the usual student loan funds, cubs, classes, etc.

A $1000 prize went with the Coffin medal. It went into the employees' benefit fund. And so it goes, with good will on both sides.

The service which won the Coffin medal is the result of team work all along the line, and not any individual starring," Bud informs those who would praise him. "A company may have all the money it can possibly spend on improvements, etc., but it can't succeed unless it has the cooperative spirit of its employees in their work."

GERMAN COUNT IS OSTRACISED

(By The Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—Count Robert Zeditz, und Truetzschler, former marshal of the court of Emperor William II, has been read out of his own family and expelled from all the organizations of officers of the old German army because of his recent book "twelve years at the German court" which spoke disparagingly of the Kaiser, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and other officers of high rank. He charged these officers with a fawning attitude toward the Kaiser, who was represented as treating them as if they were dogs and slaves.

NEWS OF SOUTH BOSTON

SOUTH BOSTON, Va., Dec. 8.—Much interest is being manifested here in business circles in regard to the opening of a shoe factory by Colonel Fred Vaughn and associates. It is understood a site will be decided upon at an early date and the factory will be put into operation in the near future. This enterprise is expected to greatly increase the population of the town as hundreds of employees will be brought here to carry on the work.

Preparations are already under way for a number of festivities to take place during the Christmas holidays. Carol singers are practicing and will be heard during the early morning hours, in various parts of the town. Sunday Schools of the churches are preparing special programs and talented musicians of the town have arranged to hold a community sing during Christmas week. The school children who are being trained by Guy Salver will take part in the singing and a very large crowd is expected at this entertainment.

Dr. Helen A. Moore of the American Child Health Association is expected to arrive here in a few days and will conduct classes of instruction along certain lines in connection with the health work of Halifax county. She will be assisted in this work by a nurse who is to arrive here at a later date.

The many friends of Mr. Berkley Carrington Skinner will be interested to learn of his engagement and approaching marriage to Miss Alma McElveen of Lake City, S. C.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church had a successful bazaar and dinner on Thursday. The sum of about $300 was made.

Miss Martha Cook returned Monday from a trip to Chillicothe, Ohio. Little Miss Vivian Lawson and Miss Martha Mosley are visiting relatives in Farmsdale, Ala.

Editor Edgar Hedderly of the Halifax Record-Advocate was a visitor here on Friday.

Two fast games of basketball were played in the auditorium of the new high school building Friday night.

The South Boston girls claimed a victory over the Halifax girls by a score of 33-19.

The Halifax boys won from the South Boston boys by a score of 23 to 16.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germs.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung trouble.

Not only does the drug claim to speed up the settling of the claims of men in hospitals but instructions have been issued also not to overlook ex-service men in penal institutions.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., 800 Peach Street, Atlanta, Ga.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—France's interest economically and politically in the result of the British elections continues to be the most prominent topic of the day in newspaper and official circles.

Economically the defeat of protectionism meets with outspoken favor, while politically it is yet too soon to gauge the probable effects owing to the uncertainty of the composition of the future government. The tremendous gains made by the labor party, however, are regarded as holding great significance in their possible effect on the trend of public opinion coming in the spring.

Tunney and Greh Will Fight Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Gene Tunney of Greenwich Village and Harry Greb of Pittsburgh meet in a 15 round decision bout tonight at Madison Square Garden for the third time with the lightweight boxing championship of the United States at stake.

Greb took the title from Tunney on a decision in their first bout and Greb regained it by a decision at their second meeting. Since then the Pittsburgher has taken the world's middleweight title from Johnny Wilson of Boston.

Both men have trained hard for the bout. There is real rivalry between them because of Greb's peculiar fighting tactics which he insists are legitimate at all times and which Tunney has asserted were foul in the battle he lost. Tunney is expected to have a 15 pound advantage.

STONE OF PHILLY NEWEST STAR IN LIGHT HEAVIES

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The newest star among the light heavyweights of the nation is Ad Stone of Philadelphia, a second Dempsey, in action. Stone made his debut here recently and gave Mike Burke, local top-notch, a terrific beating. Stone all but knocked Burke out in the third round with a right-hand punch.

Stone is eternally aggressive and flies away with both bands all the time. With a little more experience experts figure he will be able to hold his own against Tunney, Greb, McGuire and Carpenter. Stone weighs 176 pounds and is proportionately built.

The public diamond, shown at the Paris exposition, weighed 239 carats.

Baseball Meeting Opens in Chicago

Magnates Begin Task of Shaping Things for 1924

Season—Arrangement of Schedules, Settlement of Disputes and Exchange of Players Included in Program.

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—The task of shaping professional baseball for the 1924 season was undertaken here today by more than 1,200 leaders of the sport gathered here for the biggest meeting in the game's history.

Arrangements of schedules, settlement of disputes, exchange of players and numerous minor matters confront the major and minor league officials during their six days of meeting and bargaining.

Speculation among officials pointed to possible deals involving Rogers Hornsby, second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals; Eddie Collins, captain of the White Sox; Urban Shocker, pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, and other stars.

There was talk that Collins might go to Washington as manager while a trade was spoken of that would bring Hornsby to the Chicago Cubs. Frank Chance, new White Sox manager, intends to make two or three deals in an attempt to strengthen the club.

Today's meetings include a session of the board of arbitration of the National Association of the Baseball Leagues, meeting of the National League and of the board of directors of the American League and three minor league meetings.

First among the cases to be considered by the board of arbitration was the controversy over the presidency of the Pacific Coast League. William H. McCarthy, of San Francisco, deposed president, and Harry A. Williams, the new occupant of the office, were both to appear before the tribunal.

McCarthy contends that Williams was illegally elected by the vote of the Seattle club, which, he argues, was not entitled to ballot. Williams claims that his election was legal by a 5 to 3 vote.

The American Association, the Southern Association and the Western League also holds meetings today.

Among questions which the major leagues will consider at their joint session Wednesday are 15 proposals to amend the agreement under which baseball operates. The most important of these would give Commissioner Landis appellate powers in disputes involving major league umpires.

Another concerns inclusion of playing managers and the exclusion of coaches in the player limit of 25 allowed each club between June 15 and August 31.

Woodrow Wilson Loses to Roanoke

(By The Associated Press)

ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 8.—After battling three scoreless periods and with five minutes to play Fitzpatrick, star tackle of Roanoke High School, booted a field goal which defeated Woodrow Wilson High School of Portsmouth, 3 to 0, for the high school championship of Virginia. Four thousand spectators witnessed one of the greatest football games in the history of Virginia here today.

The teams battled evenly throughout the contest which was fiercely and cleanly fought. Tunney and Lettman were the shining stars for Portsmouth. The generalship of Barnes at quarterback for Roanoke was the outstanding feature of the game.

Line up and summary:

R. M. I. QUINT WINS FROM LEAKSVILLE "Y." BASKETEERS

The basketball quint of Randolph-Macon Institute swatted the Leakeville, N. C., Y. W. C. A. Saturday by the score of 23 to 6. The game was cinched in the early moments by the quick passing and accurate goal throwing of Peters and Purcell, R. M. I. forwards.

These two were up against an unusually stiff wall of guarding throughout the game, but despite this they made a splendid showing and nothing could stop them from piling up the score.

Summer and Summerville centers, achieved remarkable teamwork and kept the ball in their opponents territory most of the game.

Bullock and Allen played excellently on defense, though they were not given an opportunity to get hold of the ball often.

The line-up follows:

R. M. I. Position ... Leakeville

Peters ... Landreth

Purcell ... Barham

Summer ... L. F.

Summerville ... Edwards

Bullock (Capt.) ... Simpson

Allen ... Hall

L. G.

Substitutes: R. M. I. Bridgeforth for Bullock, Lane for Summerville; Leakeville, Landreth for Simpson, Clark for Landreth, Rhode for Hall. Referee: J. L. Oliver.

Villa to Defend His Title Tonight; to Fight Wallace

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, will defend his title here tonight in a 15 round decision bout with Pat Wallace of Philadelphia. It will be the first fight in this city involving a championship since the state athletic commission started to function December 1.

Villa met Wallace in a no-decision bout about a year ago, and received the popular verdict by a narrow margin.

ONLY ONE VESSEL HAS JOINED REVOLT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8.—The Mexican Navy supporting the part of revolt against the government consists of only one vessel, the Zafra which was condemned a year ago it was stated by Arturo M. Elias, Mexican consul general.

The French suggest that the United States take German property seized in the war as security to cover the amount advanced to Germany as credit for wheat and other foodstuffs.

But it is suggested here that Washington might better join the Allies in protesting that the Berlin government take necessary measures to force the farmers to sell and distribute their surplus crops to the cities dwellers as enough food exists in Germany to feed everyone if the agricultural regions divide up with the urbanites.

It is learned that Colonel Logan, the American unofficial member of the reparations commission, is now sounding out the reparations commission on behalf of Herbert Hoover as to whether the Astoria organization will consent to waive its priority claims on Germany in favor of American food credits which the Washington administration envisaged would be between $35,000,000 and $70,000,000.

The British have not yet indicated their attitude pending the election.

is a fine art and we are past masters at it. It is no easy matter to wash and iron those delicate, fluffy, lace things which we do dear to the heart of woman kind. But we do it to the women's satisfaction, as is evidenced by the large volume of this class of work we have. So much easier to have us do it than do it at home!

HOME HAZARDS

"I Thought It Was Medicine"

BY DR. RALPH ELLIOTT
Health Service Section, National Safety Council.

Nearly every home has a collection of poisons, ranging in severity from iodine to hydrochloric acid in the medicine-cabinet along with castor oil and cough syrup. The indiscriminate storing of harmless and deadly substances has often resulted in taking poisons by mistake.

Every bottle of poison should be correctly labeled, but even the skull and cross-bones won't always prevent mistakes. The safest way is to keep poisons in a separate cabinet—under lock and key if there are children in the house—or stick pins in the corks of bottles to prevent mistakes in the dark.

Always learn the antidote to every poison kept in the house, and in case of poisoning apply it promptly while you are waiting for the doctor to come.

Remember that every second counts and prompt treatment will often prevent death. Most poisons are now supplied by the drug stores with stock labels giving the antidote.

If you have bottles in your medicine cabinet which are improperly labeled, throw them out unless you can positively identify their contents. Most cases of accidental poisoning have been due to bottles improperly labeled or not labeled at all. An example is the similarity in the color of iodine and arsenic. Keep them separate and keep tragedy out of your home!

Common lye, which is used in nearly every household, is a violent poison. There is very little danger of an adult taking it by mistake, but it should be kept out of reach of the children. The same applies to many disinfectants and insect ex-terminators.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

Thomson & McKinnon

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Observers on the floor of the exchange are of the opinion that at the week there was considerable selling of stocks by leading longs, or what is popularly described as "not all uppers." It is good business and the sellers are in better position to give support during moments of necessity.

The election in England will probably be classified by future historians as the greatest influence in hastening a settlement of Europe's principal problem. It will mark the turning point in the French attitude and from now on you may expect to hear more of a compromise. And 1924 may prove to be the best for the post-war years toward the final United States and real progress in Europe.

I think we may proceed safely along the present road and welcome reactions in the stock market as buying opportunities.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

By The Associated Press.

Stock prices showed irregularly higher changes at the opening of today's market. Heavy buying of Marland was resumed that stock gained two points. Dickinson and Davison Chemical each gained a point but the steels were heavy. Jersey Central climbed two points.

Prices shifted in a bewildering fashion in the secondary dealings with however, a more general trend to the lower levels. Some active issues like Tobacco Products and Davison Chemical, which were up one to two points, fell back sharply as did also Schulz, Baldwin and American Can. Marine pfd was practically west. Also General Electric, Continental Can, Chicago and Northwestern. Foreign exchange rates opened relatively steady.

Fleeing From Trouble.

JUDGE—You are charged with being a deserter, having left your wife. Are all of the facts in the case true? PRISONER—No, your honor. I am not a deserter. Just a refugee. — The Punch Bowl.

Haynes Pleads For Co-Operation In Fight On Rum

(By The Associated Press.)

A plan for co-operation with the federal government by state and municipal officials and the general public in the enforcement and observance of the prohibition law in New York where the government "is obliged to mill out from 600 to 1,000 violations a month" was made here today by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes in addressing a citizenship conference.

The federal government's responsibility in this matter," said Mr. Haynes, "is manifestly to handle the smuggling situation along the coast and the borders and the control of the source of supply within the United States."

Every state, county and city, said Congressman Hayes, should bear its share of the enforcement of every one of the mandates and the guarantees of the federal constitution, including the 18th amendment.

"The federal government," he said, "should not be called upon to put on a police uniform and protect your backyards. The little frivolous local violation should all be handled by the local officials."

MORNING COTTON LETTER.

Thomson & McKinnon

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The sun and long intervals proved to be larger than expected and caused a decline of $0.05 cents Saturday.

Sentiment is lessened. Mills at the moment are following a limit-to-mouth policy. Bears are more aggressive but believe cotton bought on re-cessions will eventually be profitable.

Looking For Negro
Accidentally Shot

(By The Associated Press)

ELIZABETH, N. C., Dec. 10.—John

Bray, city manager of Elizabeth City, was accidentally shot last night

while engaged with a posse searching for Leroy White, negro, wanted on charges of committing five highway robberies in the last four days and shooting one man. Manager Bray received a charge of buckshot in his shoulder when he attempted to take a shot gun out of an automobile.

J. T. Thompson, a hosiery mill operative, was held up by a negro last night, the fifty such incidents since Friday night. The highwayman whose description fits the negro wanted for the other crimes, obtained twenty-one dollars.

Enoch, Guilty, Is Given Sentence Of Twenty Years

(By The Associated Press) RICHMOND, VA., Dec. 7.—Joseph Enoch, 23, was found guilty by a jury in Hustings court tonight of murder in the first degree in connection with the death of Celia Shevick on April 26, last. The jury recommended that he be sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. A motion for a new trial will be argued before Judge D. C. Richardson on January 3.

The trial deliberated for more than two hours. At 9:25 o'clock the foreman announced it had reached a verdict. The sentence is the minimum pena, i.e., first degree murder.

Enoch accepted the verdict calmly, but a woman in the court room interupted the proceedings with "It's a lie, he is not guilty—I know he's not guilty."

The woman was removed and the clerk was instructed to read again the findings of the court. Harry M. Smith Jr., attorney of defense counsel, then moved for a new trial intimating he was in possession of new and startling developments which may have an important bearing on the case. He said what he had in mind might amount to nothing but then on the other hand, it might be of grave importance.

The case was given to the jury at 4 o'clock this afternoon after a day of argument in course in which the prosecution accused the prisoner as the arch conspirator of a double crime, and defense attorneys declared that Enoch's demeanor at all times has been that of an innocent man.

Commonwealth's attorney praised the activities of the police in investigating the death of the girl, whose unconscious form was found on a lot near the banks of Shockoe creek on the morning of April 26. She had been criminally attacked and beaten over the head with a heavy instrument. She died this afternoon without regaining consciousness. Defense counsel arraigned the police, declaring that "when a crime of this nature is committed there is a hue and cry raised that some one must be arrested."

"The police were active," said Attorney Harry M. Smith Jr., "and had heard of the engagement Joseph had had with Miss Shevick the night of the tragedy, and a great detective Captain Alfred C. S. Wright came to the conclusion that this boy had committed the crime."

"I thank God for such men as Captain Wright, an efficient head of his department," declared George L. Wise, of the prosecution.

The defense charged at the trial that an alleged confession by Enoch was extorted by the police. Judge D. C. Richardson, presiding, upheld Mr. Smith's motion to have the alleged admissions by the prisoner be not admitted as evidence as it was not a voluntary statement. The court in announcing his decision on this point, declared that testimony of the methods used by the police in questioning Enoch "reads like a page from the inquisition of the middle ages."

Miss Shevick was on her way home from a motion picture show on the evening she was attacked. She had had an engagement with Enoch and his sister for the evening. It was testified at the trial, but this was canceled by Enoch's sister to attend a wedding. The defense sought to prove that Enoch was at home asleep at the time the girl was waylaid and in this connection Judge Richardson held in instructing the jury today that since the defense had attempted to establish the alibi record on the prisoner.

Five minutes after going out the jury sat down for the clothes worn by the girl on the night she was attacked and at 5:30 o'clock requested transcripts of the testimony of Enoch and that of Coroner J. M. Whitfield. Judge Richardson at that time suggested that the jury recess for dinner, but its foreman declared his body would prefer to deliberate without interruption until a verdict had been reached.

JOE WHITE BEATEN BY JACK McAULIFFE

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK Dec. 7.—Jack McAuliffe, 2nd of Detroit easily won the judges' decision over Joe White of Montgomery, Alabama, in a ten-round bout tonight. The Detroit heavyweight appeared to have remained the condition he was in before he was knocked out by Lee Fife last summer. He and White had terms of knockout in the third, fifth, ninth and tenth rounds. The bell saved White in the tenth round after McAuliffe knocked him through the ropes with an uppercut.

McAuliffe had cleverly used a left hook to dislodge throughout and received little punishment. He touched 19 and White 10.

HIRAM NOT GOLF BUG, BUT LIKES TO PLAY DOMINOES

BY A. H. FREDERICK
(Special to The Bee)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—A big easy chair, a comfortable smoking jacket, plenty of cigars and a good book

These are the ingredients of an ideal evening in the life of Hiram Johnson.

For the former governor of California, present United States senator, fiery opponent of the League of Nations and right now "progressive" candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, is essentially a home man.

He loves his books. He enjoys his neighborly calls from friends. But a social life bores him.

Plays Dominoes

Mrs. Johnson nearly always accompanies him when he travels together, they create a home atmosphere in any hotel, or aboard any sleeping car.

Sacramento. General Ulysses S. Grant, not yet president, was visiting Hiram's class-room. Miss Watson called on young Johnson for a recitation. And "Sheridan's Ride" was the one he gave.

The movies run a close second in his affections. He knows a lot of their personnel, their histories and their past careers. His predictions of success for embryonic celluloid celebrities when little past the "extra's" stage have been unusually adept.

And baseball? Well, "Hi" used to be quite a sandlot pitcher in his youth. So he still retains his old love for America's national pastime. He takes in a game whenever he gets a chance.

Doesn't Golf.

Johnson likes swimming, too. Fact is, it's in the tank he gets most of his physical recreation.

Hunting also brings him keen enjoyment. And he is no mean shot either.

But golf?—Never! That's one bad habit the senator hasn't acquired.

He is a fairly early riser—the exact hour depending on the amount of rest he feels in need of to keep him fit for a strenuous day—and a late-nighter.

Wants to get rich for money.

Wants to go to Monte Carlo, he has not sought ostentation either in home or position.

Backyard Retreat.

Immediately following the earthquake of 1906 he purchased a residence overlooking San Francisco Bay. From it there is an excellent view not only of the bay but also of the jagged hills beyond.

That house still is Johnson's home. It lacks nothing to make it comfortable. Unobtrusive dignity is the keynote of its furnishings. Nothing chosen for its apparent cost or ornate display, but everything for atmosphere.

His backyard is one of the senator's favorite retreats. Here unannoyed by noises of the street—for the house stands high above the street level—he can read or meditate undisturbed, pausing now and then in deep reverie as his eyes sweep over the magnificent panorama of his dearly beloved California.

Recited for Gratitude.

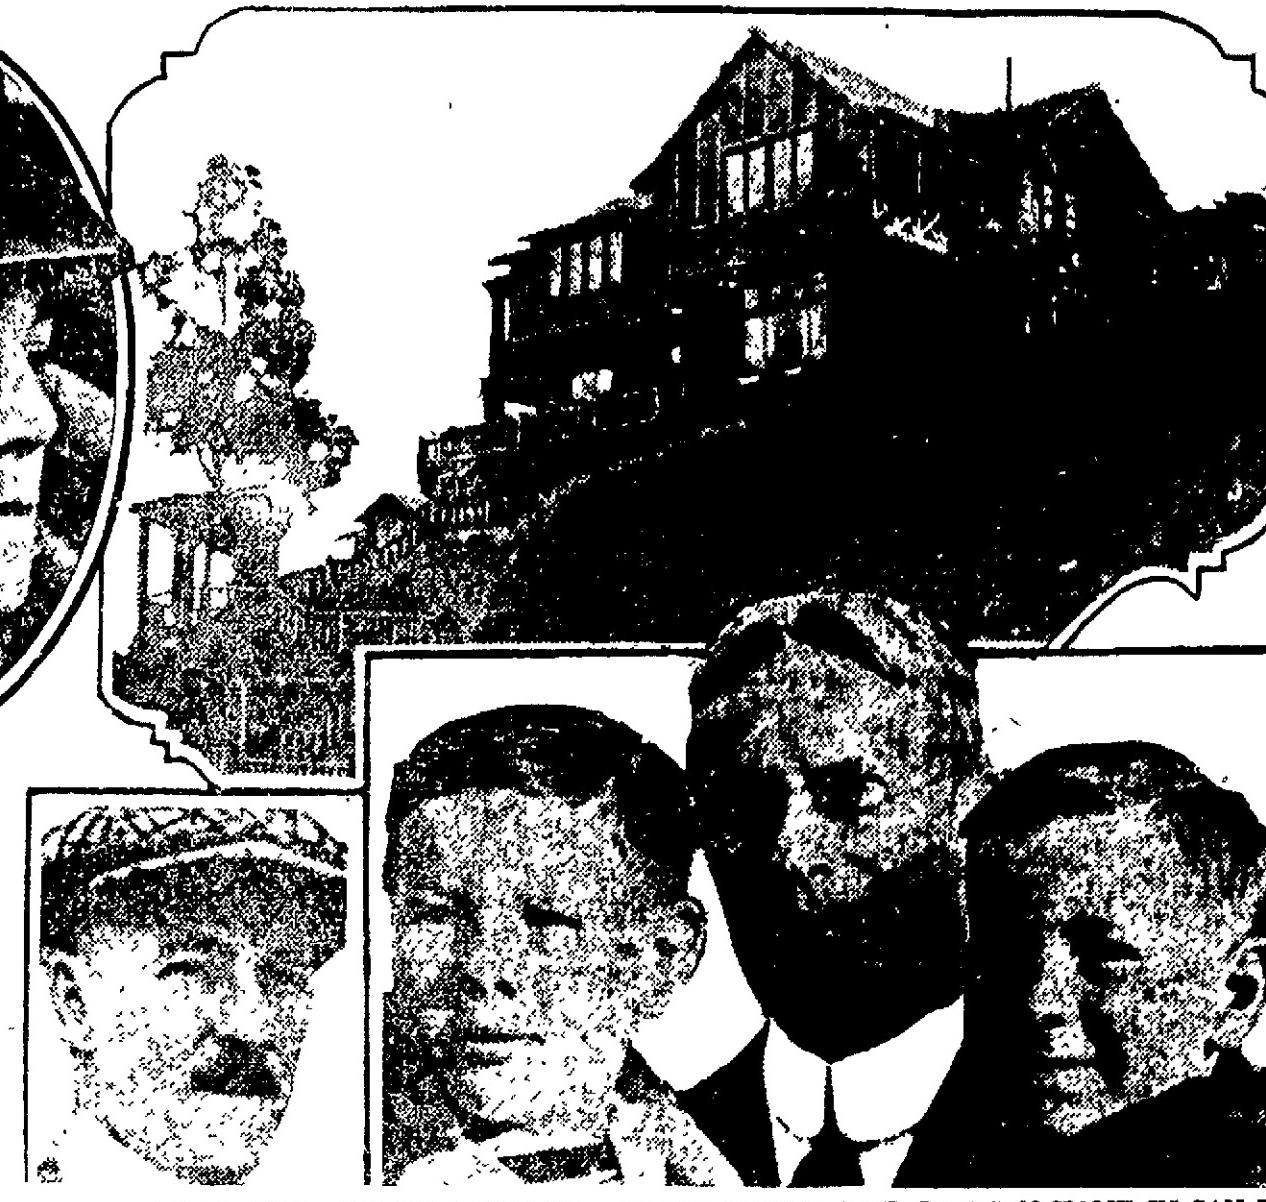

He does not democratic. Never for a moment has he forgotten his mistakes of earlier years.

The customary early prediction of future greatness, accompanying all presidential candidates in boyhood, came in Johnson's case from Mrs. N. B. White. She was Hiram's teacher in the Mary J. Watson School in Johnson likes nothing better than a good game of dominoes. He spends a whole evening completely absorbed in its intricacies. Always, he carries a pocket set with him.
